

Editorial Board VBA Journal

The VBA Journaal is the Society magazine. It is a semi-scientific publication with a practical approach. With a keen eye for developments in the financial markets, and in the financial institutions themselves, the VBA Journaal is a platform for current discussions within the investment profession. The composition of the editorial board is a good reflection of this.

The VBA Journaal is published four times a year with a circulation of approximately 2,300 copies. The magazine is read by both members and other interested parties. In practice, the reach of the VBA Journaal is greater. Due to the accessible writing style, often in Dutch, it proves to be a valuable source of information for investors, but also for example (pension fund) directors or their advisors.
